Dear Friends,

One of the most beautiful aspects of ASP’s ministry is the compassionate – and obedient – hearts of our supporters and volunteers.

When Isaiah heard God’s call to serve others, he didn’t ask questions or try to bargain with his Father. It was simple. God called; Isaiah answered. God commanded; Isaiah obeyed.

Perhaps you came to these mountains last year to pick up a paint brush, swing a hammer and be a blessing to the families we serve. Or maybe you’re someone who faithfully supports this ministry through generous gifts or powerful prayer. My point is this…

Just like Isaiah, God called and YOU took action!

At ASP, our mission is home repair, but what our work is really about is rallying people of faith to share their blessings – and to put them into action to lift up people like those you’ll read about in the Gratitude Report you hold. That’s what YOU support – that’s what YOU make possible.

In the pages of this report, you’ll see how your assistance is transforming lives for families in one of the poorest regions of our country. But the words, numbers and pictures on these pages only offer a brief glimpse into the amazing miracles of service and grace that happened last year because of your faithful obedience to Christ’s calling.

It’s true; when people like you – our volunteers, church groups, foundations, corporate partners and individual supporters – are obedient and willing, God puts His work into your hands. When you move to help those in need, God moves in you.

Thank you for your support of the families of Central Appalachia and ASP. Without you, the wonderful things you will read about in this report simply would not be possible.

Blessings always,

Walter B. Crouch
President/CEO
We are called to speak on behalf of those who do not have a voice. We are called to serve all people “right where they are, just the way they are.”

So many families in Central Appalachia live without the basics—watertight roofs, insulation to keep them warm, even a usable bathroom or kitchen. But, thanks to the generosity and kindness of friends like you, we’re working to change that, one home, one family at a time.

It’s through your faithful prayers and generosity that ASP can answer the call to share God’s love throughout these mountains with humility and enthusiasm in the same way that Isaiah answered the call from God to serve in his time and place.

Making homes warmer, safer, drier… the possibilities are limitless with your continued support of this ministry. Together, we are building homes and healing hearts.
“It’s been so emotional, so heartwarming. I didn’t even realize there were still so many good people out there.”

– Rachel, speaking of the ASP crews that came to repair her home.

Rachel and her children, Sherman, Waylon and Connor, are now living in their very own home, thanks to the kindness of friends like you. Imagine the joy on the faces of Rachel’s little ones as they spent their first night in their very own room, dreaming of rainbows and froggies!

This was all made possible because you opened your ears and your heart to God’s calling. Your generosity and commitment to serve, as Isaiah did, are paving the way for ASP’s life-changing work for Appalachian families.

“I don’t like it… I LOVE it.”

– Martha, on seeing her newly remodeled bathroom.

When we met “Miss Martha” this sweet 75-year-old lady was sleeping on a thin foam pad in a dark, leaky room. She was freezing in winter and nearly burned up in summer. Her roof was in urgent need of repair, as was her bathroom—which had no light and no working sink. But you and ASP helped brighten Martha’s life. Not only with drywall and paint… but also with love and laughter!

Martha treasures the photos and letters ASP volunteers left for her. And she still hears from some of them, who call or write to her from time to time. It’s all made Martha feel so blessed!
“Come as strangers. Leave as family.”

– Written on the cakes that Tina (Sheridan and Kinzlie’s mother) shared with ASP volunteers each week during the 2018 Summer Build.

Thanks to your kindness, help and hope are spreading across Appalachia to families and children like Sheridan and her baby sister, Kinzlie. This family from Kentucky has struggled mightily. The girls’ father was laid off from the mines, and the family lost their home in a tragic fire. Their only wish was to be in their own home. With the support of friends like you, ASP was able to answer their prayers!

Y’all have no idea what this really meant to us. Not only that but it restored my belief in God. I was pretty depressed and then God sent these wonderful people (His people) to me to lift my spirits. And it sure did, and I need somehow to tell y’all how much that meant to me! It was everything. I don’t really have the words. All I know is y’all were sent from God. That’s no doubt. And I thank y’all so, so much. I hope God blesses all of you as much as He did us. That was one of the greatest things that has ever happened to us. Thank you, thank you, THANK YOU.

Your Sister in Christ,
Teresa (Hancock County, TN)

Here in Appalachia, angels wear blue jeans and sneakers and spend a week, a month, or even just a weekend blessing families in need with vital home repair. One family described their ASP volunteer work crew as their “angels in blue jeans.” We can’t imagine a better description of these amazing people who give their time, money and hard work to help children and families throughout this poverty-stricken area.

In 2018, more than 15,000 angels arrived on the scene in Appalachia so they could make hundreds of homes warmer, safer and drier for families living in worrisome and unsafe situations.

Thanks to your kindness, help and hope are spreading across Appalachia to families and children like Sheridan and her baby sister, Kinzlie. This family from Kentucky has struggled mightily. The girls’ father was laid off from the mines, and the family lost their home in a tragic fire. Their only wish was to be in their own home. With the support of friends like you, ASP was able to answer their prayers!

Long-Term Disaster Recovery and New Build

When homes in Central Appalachia are devastated by flash floods, raging fires or other natural disasters, friends like you allow ASP to make long-term commitments to serve families in need. From home repairs to brand new construction, you assist in rebuilding entire communities, one home at a time. And through ASP’s New Build programs, you are lifting up families living in poverty and providing them with the gift of a new home. ASP is able to build these homes using a combination of grants, private gifts from friends like you and volunteer labor.

ASP has committed to long-term flood recovery efforts in Rainelle, West Virginia. 72 families have already received brand new homes. Another 6 homes are planned.

ASP has committed to building 25 new homes as part of our long-term fire recovery efforts in Sevier County, Tennessee. The majority of the devastation occurred in the Gatlinburg area, with some damage in Pigeon Forge and Sevierville as well.

ASP has committed to building new homes in Tennessee for residents living in substandard housing conditions.

Greenbrier/Rainelle, WV:
- 13 new homes completed in 2018
- 16 major home repair projects completed in 2018
- 6 new homes expected to be built in 2019

Sevier County, TN:
- 9 homes completed in 2018
- 10 additional new homes expected to be completed by early 2019

New Build Tri-Cities (TN)
- 4 homes completed in 2018
- 13 new homes expected to be built in 2019

New Build Hancock County (TN)
- 8 new homes expected to be built in 2019

Thank you for serving others in 2018!
God has not called us to see through each other, but to see each other through.

Faithful supporters and volunteers are the heartbeat of our ministry at Appalachia Service Project. You see Christ in the eyes of the families we serve, treating each with dignity, care and love through your tireless efforts and service.

The Bible teaches that giving and sharing are the ways of God. By opening your heart to families in Central Appalachia, you follow in Christ’s footsteps – mirroring His actions with an outpouring of love.

In the following pages, and with our deepest gratitude, we acknowledge essential and valued partners of this ministry who’ve been faithful to His command to put love into action by helping our neighbors in need.
